

Jim Cunningham

photographer in Little Rock since 1976, and has owned his own studio since 1983.

The recipient of nine Kodak Gallery Awards and four Fuji Masterpiece Awards, Cunningham has spoken at state and regional conventions and was a speaker at the PPA National Convention. Since 2001, Cunningham has been teaching Photoshop© and Painter© workshops.

art with the right enhancement,” he said.

Corel Painter: The Artist Within

With a degree in marketing from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Jim Cunningham, M. Photog., Cr., CPP has been a

With a degree in marketing from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Jim Cunningham, M. Photog., Cr., CPP has been a

“There is a frustrated artist inside all of us and Painter© gives us the capability to release that creative side that has been trapped for so many years,” he said.

Cunningham will take you step by step through the creative process. You will be amazed at how quickly you will be creating images that your customers will want hanging on their walls.

“Each of us has images that can become beautiful works of

He will show you the techniques that will make your images stand out in the crowd.

Cunningham has been working with digital imaging for 11 years, and feels that digital imaging gives the photographer the capability to create what we see in our mind’s eye.

This workshop is for portrait and wedding photographers who want to transform their images into works of art.

Cunningham is a full time photographer who feels that Painter© has given us the capability to take our photographic images to the next level.

With Cunningham’s instruction you will learn how to paint faces and eyes that will take your customers breath away.

Having trouble painting hair?

Let Cunningham show you how to smooth out the tangles. Specular highlights are important to any portrait.

Learn a quick and easy way to get those highlights just right on your Painter© images.

